CORPORATE COUNSEL SYMPOSIUM

Resilience & Grit in the Face of Change

October 16-18, 2022
Philadelphia, PA
Marriott Downtown Hotel

REGISTRATION NOW OPEN

If we have learned one thing from the pandemic and the continuing variants, it is that the new measurement of success is based upon a relentless resilience and a determination to forge ahead in the face of continuing challenges and changes in the legal landscape. In that spirit, we invite you to join us October 16 – 18, 2022 for the FDCC’s Corporate Counsel Symposium designed exclusively for corporate and defense counsel members, and their colleagues. The two and a half day interactive program will take place at the Philadelphia, PA Marriott Downtown Hotel and feature cutting-edge discussions on issues that matter most to corporate counsel, designed to keep you ahead of the curve, including ESG, cybersecurity, privilege in the corporate context, crisis management, and diversity, ethics and inclusion in the age of the great resignation.

In addition to great content, the event will feature ample opportunities for networking, two nights of dine arounds, a moderated women’s luncheon as well as tips for integrating mindfulness into your practice. All FDCC defense and corporate counsel members are welcome to attend and encouraged to bring a client or colleague, although bringing a client is not required. We can’t wait to see you back in person in the city of brotherly love.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- FDCC corporate and defense counsel members
- Corporate Counsel responsible for law departments and litigation/claims management/contracts
- Corporate executives engaged in information technology
- Compliance, risk, and human resources managers

We are again offering complimentary registration to all in-house counsel. As a result, space may be at a premium for this year’s event. Therefore, we recommend you register early to reserve your spot at the CCS (and for a room at the hotel). FDCC members are encouraged to invite, though not required to bring, their corporate counsel colleagues responsible for law department or litigation management to join them.

As the country emerges from COVID-19, the Biden administration's EEOC is beginning to flex its muscle. Employment lawyers across the country are experiencing increased diligence from the EEOC as they conduct their investigation of discrimination charges. EEOC investigators are increasingly demanding documents and conducting on-site investigations and interviews of employees. Even in the mediation process, the EEOC is insisting on a "measure of accountability" by employers before resolving claims. This panel of in-house counsel and experienced employment lawyers will educate corporate counsel on their rights as employers in the EEOC process. The panel will also provide strategies for responding to more-aggressive EEOC investigators. At the conclusion of the program, attendees should possess a better understanding of the risks inherent in the EEOC process and ideas for limiting potential liability.

While the clothing is available for sale, it is also free to anyone referred, and The Wardrobe consultation experience is priceless.

Please bring one (or more) career items with you to the CCS and we will gladly donate it to the Wardrobe. Your donation will be tax deductible and will go a long way towards helping members of Philadelphia and the surrounding communities get back out into the workforce with style and pride.
